LOST KIDS & LOST AND FOUND

If your child is lost or has lost something go to the KARMA DOME. We have wristbands with the parent’s contact information at the Karma Dome and at Kids’ Space.

Lodging

No camping is permitted anywhere on campus. People found camping are subject to citation and removal from campus. The closest public camping ground is KOA in West Sacramento. If you need lodging, the City of Davis provides a variety of options for your travel, including local hotels and inns. Visit www.davisdowntown.com/hotel-directory

Dogs

All dogs must be on a leash while at the festival, guided by a person. Dogs may not be staked down. Please, do not leave pets inside your car and make sure your dog gets enough water. Please pick up after your dog.

Alcohol, Marijuana, & Tobacco

The Whole Earth Festival is an alcohol-free event. Thank you for not bringing alcohol onto campus. The Regents of the University of California, owners of the UC Davis campus, do not allow marijuana use on any of its UC Campuses. This includes medicinal use of marijuana. All events at UC Davis have a zero-tolerance for drug and alcohol possession. Those in possession of drugs or alcohol will be cited. The campus is also smoke and tobacco-free.

Karma Dome

If WEF is a living, breathing organism (which, arguably, it is) the Karma Patrol is the blood pumped from the Karma Dome heart to all of the space organs, keeping the festival alive and pulsing!

As your Karma Patrol Directors, we are working towards creating a cohesive, friendly and safe space and are here for you if you need anything during the festival. If you need any guidance or assistance during your festival experience, you can find us in the green-purple-tan Karma Dome, at the northeast corner of the quad.

We are also here to support the several hundred Non-Violent Conflict Resolution-trained Karma Patrol Volunteers that make this experience possible for all of you. Our Karma Patrollers are a crucial resource at this festival as they:
- set up/take down the festival
- ensure a zero waste environment by assisting with WERC (Whole Earth Reusables Cooperative), composting and recycling
- answer questions or help you find the Karma Dome
- space-keeping and night-keeping—roving, roaming and establishing a safe space through non-violent conflict resolution

As you enjoy the festival please be sure to thank the Karma Patrol Volunteers!

Your 2016 Karma Patrol Directors,

Amelia Evard & Jess Tierney

Compost & Recycling

We are the super coordinators from CNR! What’s our goal? Well, that’s a good question! We want zero waste! Let us tell you something, as an old politician from Vermont says: “Enough is enough.” We shall stop wasting precious resources! Plastics, oranges, broken guitars, dishes of food. Join the movement. It’s Cool and Revolutionary. It’s a mélange of Compost and Recycling!

So many colors, and opportunities Your disposables will be of use again one day Let’s be honest: maybe not tomorrow… But one day, it may be reused as a toothbrush or a plastic heart That would save your life or the one of your future wife. So how about it my friends? Do you want to come aboard? Meet us between Wellman and Wickson Hall (North West of Quad)

Kawayan De Guzman & Mehdi Bouzouina

WEF

We are the Whole Earth Reusable Cooperative directors. The WEF family has missed reusable dishes so much that we have finally brought them back! B ye, compostables, you are becoming history. Welcome home, reusable dishes, you are the future. And of course, you, my favorite person at the festival, is going to help us out. After you enjoy your delicious food, please bring the dirty dish to a dish return booth located on the east and west sides of the quad. See, it’s so simple to be sustainable.

QUAD STAGE

Welcome to Quad Stage! We are at the southeast end of the Quad, facing northward toward the Karma Dome. We present musical acts, keynote speakers and informative emceeing. Join us for the Opening Ceremony just before noon Friday and the Closing Ceremony 5-6pm Sunday!

Special thanks to: Jonlee Productions, providing the fine sound system at Quad Stage! Our stage crew welcomes sound engineer Joe Lee, with assistants Joe Pace, Michelle Joyce and Red Sykes! Quad Stage also welcomes and thanks our emcee, iRev Armitage Shankz 6.0.7, now celebrating his 30th year working the Whole Earth Festival!

FOOD BOOTHS

Hungry? Grab a reusable plate and enjoy some yummy grub at one of the 17 food booths. All food sold at WEF is the essence of RAW: vegetarian, non-GMO, sustainably produced, and hand-made just for you!

- Caramel corn, falafels, man go-on-a-stick, vegan corndogs just to name a few.
- Additionally, you can try some black bean quesadillas, raw juices, kava, and handmade popsicles.

Check out our booths located in the main food courts on both east and west walkways. We also have some treats next to the quad stage. When you’re done enjoying your meals, please dispose of your dishes at our dish return stations.

EXPERIENTIAL WORKSHOPS

- 2:00-4:00pm White Noise Collective: Spirituality and Cultural Appropriation
- 4:30-5:30pm Alex Leach: Accepting Oneself

When white people practice yoga, Native American spirituality, Buddhist meditation, West African drumming, or other spiritual practices from non-European cultures, what are the impacts? As Larune Olu-Ogun points out in The Difference Between Cultural Exchange and Cultural Appropriation, “we have a responsibility to listen to people of marginalized cultures, understand as much as possible the blatant and subtle ways in which their cultures have been appropriated and exploited, and educate ourselves enough to make informed choices when it comes to engaging with people of other cultures.”

Cameo from a stance of curiosity, this workshop is offered to develop a shared understanding of cultural appropriation and its diverse impacts, directly informed by voices from Native and POC communities.

This year’s Kids Space will focus on developing environmental consciousness among young people at WEF. “Raw” is the theme for this year’s festival. We are happy to use interactive artistic expression and collaborative discussion to create the motivation and inspiration to enact change in the world. To realize our own vulnerability and be Voyagered with the mission of enacting this change on others, we can create a global network of compassion that will in turn make our planet and our community healthier.

Join us to learn about Meridian Tapping aka “EFT” (Emotional Freedom Technique), gain clarity around your purpose and shift towards a career that is in alignment with your soul’s calling. Kirsten Elise is a deeply empathic artist, healer and life coach dedicated to helping her clients live passionate, aligned lives.

Our workshops and retreats focus on repurposing our daily interactions onto a foundation of compassion. Being more aware of how your body and mind are their own eco-system and the better you take care of that the better you can take care of each other and the world. We are happy to use interactive artistic expression and offering you some tricks! All levels of experience are encouraged to partipate in this magical exploration. This year we encourage you to attend! With Love, Kirsten & Karla

11:00-12:30pm Kirsten Elise Tapping Into Your Soul’s Purpose

Join us to learn about Meridian Tapping aka “EFT” (Emotional Freedom Technique), gain clarity around your purpose and shift towards a career that is in alignment with your soul’s true calling. Meridian Tapping is a clinically proven method that clears energy blockages stored in your body caused by trauma or negative experiences. By literally tapping on meridian points (as used in acupuncture) in conjunction with affirmations, you will instantly release stored blockages, fears, old thought patterns, and limiting beliefs to realign yourself with your true passions. Kirsten Elise is a deeply empathic artist, healer and life coach dedicated to helping her clients live passionate, purposeful lives. She teaches tapping workshops as a way of creating powerful healing within group settings. More information can be found at www.kirstenelise.com.

2:30-4:00pm Andreas Tsoupadakis Colleges of the anxious: Consequences and Solutions

Known for being almost too happy, Professor Tsoupadakis emphasizes learning to be happy, working hard and finding a place where you belong. He teaches Chem 28BC, Chem 10, and Physical Chemistry for Life Sciences. Every year he gives away handmade soap with a carving of the “Life Curver” to his highest scoring student.

CEDAR STAGE
Welcome to the Cedar Stage! We are located southwest of the Quad on the Walker lawn across Hart Hall (close to shields)! There’s something for everyone. Come shake your caboose loose!

DANCE STAGE
Welcome to Dance Stage! Located on the lawn in front of Wellman Hall, dance stage presents performances from local and on-campus dance groups. Come enjoy a wide array of dance genres and feel free to dance along as well!

ART SPACE
If you love Whole Earth Festival, you have to stop by Art Space! As it stands today, this space is an ode to the community about social, personal, and environmental wellness. This year, we’ve hand selected a variety of pieces to display during the festival that we personally feel relate back to the original purpose and to this year’s festival theme: "Art!" We will also be hosting activities and artist-run workshops and presentations in our space throughout the festival weekend! If you happen to be walking by the Memorial Union, you might catch a glimpse of our Sculpture Garden, which is graciously provided by John Natsoulas from his personal gallery downtown. Yes, the one with the dog. If you like what you see in our collection, make sure to stop by his gallery sometime for more!

WEF HISTORY TENT
A new WEF History/ Memorabilia/ Donor tent is located at the center circle on the middle aisle — right in the heart of the Festival! Here you can see some of the things collected by WEF’s Archivists over the years, buy WEF memorabilia, make donations to your favorite festival, plan reunions and events to make WEF echo throughout the year, or kick back & chat with staff and XPers from years past. All are welcome to visit, stay as long as you like! Communications about this and other support activities are being coordinated thru the old archivist’s address WholeEarthFestival@ymail.com including signing up to staff the tent!

In this workshop, Joe will teach you how to make better music in the moment, jam with folks you’ve never met, and/or say something different every time you take a solo. Show up “empty handed, open minded” for this class. It will help deepen your connection to spontaneity, movement and seeing the value of not being attached to the outcome when letting your creative juices flow.

Compassionate Communication helps people engage in honest & authentic dialogue by creating a sense of safety and connection. By avoiding the debate of who is right and who is wrong, space is created for you and I to simply share what is going on inside of ourselves. Empathy is the foundation of this kind of dialogue, and with practice we can hear even the ugliest messages with compassion. Participants will gain a deeper awareness of their inner experience, they will practice the skills needed to share that authentically with others, and the skill of listening with compassion and empathy to difficult messages.
EDUCATION

SATURDAY

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM PERMACULTURE ACTION TRI-COOPS - REGAN HALL CIRCLE UC DAVIS
Derek Downey, Kaitlin Oki and Kat Perkins and Jasmine Saavedra Fuego
The first Permaculture Action Tour launched from San Francisco in late September and embarked on a multi-city quest to empower fans through community action and permaculture education. Musicians The Polish Ambassador, Ayla Nereoe, Mr. Lif, and visual designer Liminus travelled to 32 cities, encouraging fans from their show to come out the following days to get their hands dirty in an organized permaculture action day. (www.permacultureaction.org) Join us for the second annual morning of permaculture in the Tri Co-operative garden! Beginning with a potluck breakfast at 9 am, we will spend the morning learning about and putting permaculture principles into action. The Tri Co-operatives are home to a community of 30 students committed to living and learning co-operatively. As one of the communities of the Solar Community Housing Association, the Tri Co-ops are committed to providing low income co-operative housing that works to confront and critique systems of oppression through ecological awareness, inclusive self-governance and alternative economic models. In accordance with these principles, the community does not tolerate racism, transphobia, misogyny, xenophobia, homophobia, Zionism, anti-semitism, Islamophobia, cultural appropriation, classism, ableism, or any other form of prejudice or discrimination on Tri Co-operative grounds. Please be mindful and considerate of these principles.

1:00 PM "Why Don’t Dolphins Fight Back? Critiquing Anthropocentrism & Seeing Beyond Our Cultural Conditioning” YOUNG 184 Laura Bridgeman
Western culture frames our relations with other animals and "nature" in ways that prevent our recognition of non-human agency. Our laws deny dolphins the rights to their own lives, and humans are placed at the top of a hierarchy that is inherently oppressive. This talk will examine practical ways that we can transcend these conceptual boundaries and illustrates what happens when we do so.

10:00 - 12:00 Reinhabiting the Village YOUNG 194 Ric Victores
As we become increasingly aware of our interconnection on this one shared home called Earth, there is a compelling call to find our common threads and become the stewards for our collective future. Thinking Global, Acting Local principals and best practices empower participation in direct action at personal, interpersonal, and local community levels while considering our place in the greater web of life. Whether on a Land Stewardship project, or in an Urban environment, together we will explore the intersection of ancient wisdom and modern innovation to foster holistic solutions for resiliency in our communities. reinhabitingthevillage.com

12:00 - 2:00 Project NuMundo Present by Project NuMundo YOUNG 194 David Casey
Project NuMundo is a platform that connects people and impact centers, encouraging resource sharing on the web and on the ground to catalyze planetary regeneration and individual transformation.
Vision: Our vision is to create a physical and virtual network of interlinked impact centers (ecovillages, educational demonstration living and learning centers) that greatly impact the surrounding community and those who live or work there. We hope to connect people to new meaningful work experiences in all skill trades that will provide them with a personal transformation and will accelerate the development of the impact centers. We want to demonstrate harmonic future trajectories for human living that are feasible, desirable and healthy for all living things. www.projectnumundo.com

By avoiding the debate of who is right and who is wrong, space is created for you and I to simply share what is going on inside of ourselves. Empathy is the foundation of this kind of dialogue, and with practice we can hear even the ugliest messages with compassion. Participants will gain a deeper awareness of their inner experience, they will practice the skills needed to share that authentically with others, and the skill of listening with compassion and empathy to difficult messages.

12:00 - 2:00 Project NuMundo Present by Project NuMundo YOUNG 194 David Casey
Project NuMundo is a platform that connects people and impact centers, encouraging resource sharing on the web and on the ground to catalyze planetary regeneration and individual transformation.
Vision: Our vision is to create a physical and virtual network of interlinked impact centers (ecovillages, educational demonstration living and learning centers) that greatly impact the surrounding community and those who live or work there. We hope to connect people to new meaningful work experiences in all skill trades that will provide them with a personal transformation and will accelerate the development of the impact centers. We want to demonstrate harmonic future trajectories for human living that are feasible, desirable and healthy for all living things. www.projectnumundo.com

1:00pm Cause Driven, Eco-Conscious Fashion...Made in America? YOUNG 184 David Galindo
D.O.M.P. is a fashion forward brand that makes all of its garments domestically in the United States and out Earth-friendly materials. In addition, aside from sourcing locally and utilizing sustainable resources, we plant 3 trees for each one of the garments that we manufacture. The purpose of this presentation is the educate the general public about the degradation of the environment by the apparel industry, the outsourcing of manufacturing jobs overseas from 1973 until 2013, including the garment industry, and how “Forest Gardening” throughout the globe are not only helping the planet, but also lifting up farmers out of poverty.

2:00 - 3:30 Occupy the Farm Film and commentary YOUNG 194 Director Todd Darling
"On Earth Day April 22, 2012, I received a text: a couple hundred urban farmers were marching onto ten plus acres of fellow farmers and the site of a former agricultural research center known as the Git Farm. The farmers hoped to stop development of a shopping mall and condo complex on the site of the former research station, and de-rail plans that threatened to remove the class one agricultural land from farming. The activists brought with them 16,000 seedlings, development of a shopping mall and condo complex on the site of the former research station, and de-rail plans that threatened to remove the class one agricultural land from farming. The activists brought with them 16,000 seedlings, roto tillers, shovels and tents. Within a few hours, they’d planted an acre of vegetables, put up a big banner that read: Occupy the Farm, and set up a tent village to defend the crops."

The battle over the last large piece of farmland in California’s East Bay raged for months. This successful direct action altered the fate of this land owned by the University of California at Berkeley, sent urban agriculture into local headlines, and demonstrated how hopes for social justice can become a reality. This, the urban farmers announced, was "Occupy 2.0." — See more at: http://occupythefarmfilm.com/
